To Help You Write Better Memoirs
*Edited and Compiled by Ina Hillebrandt, Creator, Pawprints Writing Clubs™

WHAT: “Showing my independence, I refused to let the other paperboys pull my pants off and throw them out onto Front Street, so that they could force me to run out to fetch them in my purple shorts.” Howard Westley. From the class prompt, “The purples have it.”

Enjoy the lively spirits of these talented authors, as they read selections from their early and more recent days. You’ll hear stories on everything from the true story of Niagara Falls to stealing coal during the Great Depression...touching, comic, tender, frightening, insightful memories PLUS new fiction and Fairy Tales for Grownups™, narrated in the distinctive voices of Angelenos originally from India, Hungary, South Africa, Armenia and the U.S.

The authors will sign autographs and join everyone for ice cream.

SPECIAL GUESTS: Ira Wesley and Harrison Stevens, veteran musicians who delight with bass, tuba and guitar.

WHEN: Wednesday, May 16, noon-2:00 p.m.

Background

Readers’ comments about Stories From The Heart, Vol. 3, “This volume of Stories From The Heart, provides another lively sampling of stories that will engage the readers’ emotions and minds. And the writing cues will inspire both new and published authors to put pen to paper,” John Bragin, Co-Founder and Past Coordinator UCLA Extension Film and Television Certification Program. “These stories open a window on vivid worlds of memory and imagination. A pleasure to read.” Lisa Diana Shapiro, Playwright and screenwriter. Written by members of Ina’s Writing Club in Los Angeles, facilitated by Ina Hillebrandt, former Fortune 500 consultant turned author, speaker, publisher and writing coach. Founder, Pawprints Literacy Plus, for young people and seniors.
